

Section Foreman Dies as Result of Speeder Mishap

As a result of injuries received when the speeder upon which he was travelling hurled him against a rock slide at the mouth of a tunnel three miles east of Ritchie on Sunday night, Mike Scanzusa, section foreman at Ritchie, died twenty-four hours later. The man was returning to his home after spending the day at Cedarvale, and in a lonely place lay for eleven hours, following the accident, before he was found by the crew of a freight train, who rushed him, yet alive, to the Hazelton Hospital, where every means to save his life proved unavailing. He had endeavored to stanch his wounds with waste as he reseated himself on the speeder, but, failing in this, made his way along the right-of-way and then away from the track.

Constable Cline proceeded to the scene of the accident and made an investigation on Wednesday. An inquest was held by Coroner Hoskins in Hazelton on Thursday, when a verdict of accidental death was returned. The funeral took place the same day, service being conducted by Rev. T. D. Proctor at St. Peter's Church. Interment was made at Hazelton cemetery.

OVERHEARD AROUND NEW HAZELTON

Six ardent cyclists made the trip to Smithers on Saturday, and returned the next day. "Too much scenery up on edge," says one, while another thinks that the department of public works should appoint an Official Filler to see that all rocks on the roads have a lessened degree of sharpness during the blowout season.

Don't forget Bergman's auction sale of household goods on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Groat, of Smithers, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Parent at "Rocher de Boule Cabin" for several days, and are flower show visitors today.

Mrs. P. Anderson returned to her home in Prince Rupert on Wednesday after spending several days as the guest of Mrs. H. A. Harris.

Mrs. G. D. Parent leaves on Monday night to accompany the twins and Douglas to the east, where they will pursue their studies in Montreal and Ottawa. Mrs. Parent will return later.

Miss A. M. Sawle, of Hamilton, Ont., arrived on Thursday morning to visit C. H. and Mrs. Sawle for a week, and will then proceed to Edmonton. She is making a tour of Western Canada.

Hazelton is in gala attire today for her first annual Flower Show.

All Roads Lead to Smithers For Three-Day Fair

All roads will lead to Smithers next Wednesday, when the big three-day fall fair will start.

Having borne in mind lessons taught by the ever-increasing number of entries as each fair comes round, the directors have appreciably added to the display space at the disposal of intending exhibitors, and the exhibition hall should now provide ample room for the record entry which is expected.

Those in charge of the sports have provided a two-day program of horse races, for Thursday and Friday. Numerous novelty features will mark this program, which will, of course, include the annual Bulkley Valley Classic as the grand finale. On Friday the athletic events will precede the horse races.

A novel innovation will be the smoker on Thursday night, to which the fair sex is invited. Friday night will see the grand closing dance, at which the drawing for the Ford car will be conducted.

An unprecedented attendance from outside points is indicated by reports at hand. Prince Rupert is expected to send a strong representation, and the usual excursion rate offered by the railway is an added inducement to the people in the district between Rupert and Vanderhoof to go to the best fair that Smithers has yet held.

A number of Hagwilget Indians, loaded for bear, made a thirty-foot cottonwood dugout for the purpose of crossing the river below Parent's ranch. They paddled across alright, but Bruin still has an unperforated hide.

A torrential downpour on Wednesday night gave the district its greatest soaking for many weeks, and will prove a boon to the horticulturalist, whose greatest problem this summer has been the providing of water to replace a negligible rainfall. Dry-farming with a hoe has its limitations.

TELKWA TALES

News from the Hub of Bulkley Valley

A Successful Gala

Tyee Lake presented a holiday appearance on Thursday of last week, when the Telkwa Boy Scouts entertained a bumper crowd at a swimming gala. The raft, beach and wharf were gaily bedizened with a profusion of flags and bunting, and the bright summer dresses of the fair visitors blended with the colorful uniforms of the Scouts to make a most pleasing picture. In the water the Scouts and the more youthful Cubs demonstrated that they were perfectly at home. Their display of life-saving and resuscitation drill was a revelation to the spectators, who were also treated to a program of swimming races and diving contests. Unstinted praise is accorded the lads and Scoutmaster Chetleburgh for the manner of their performance.

Barbecue News

The new additions to the accommodations at the barbecue grounds; to wit, the chutes and corrals for the bronchos and steers, are in readiness for Labor Day. The steer-riding contest, an innovation in the Bulkley Valley this year, is arousing a great amount of interest, and promises to provide some thrills to even the woolliest of wild westerners. Entries for this event are coming in already. The quarter-mile horse race, among others, will see an unprecedented number of entries, necessitating the running of it in heats. A general clean-up of the grounds has been made, and all put in readiness. A monster crowd is expected to attend and will include a number from Prince Rupert. Reduced fares on the railway will obtain, according to information received by the secretary.

Several more cars of poles and ties were shipped from New Hazelton this week.

Seek Openings For Farm Help Through West

The colonization and development department of the Canadian National Railways, having this year placed with western farmers several thousand immigrants for the season's work, is now turning its attention to the matter of continued employment for these men during the coming winter.

Of course, many are placed for a full year, and some will engage in bush work, but as some are engaged only until freeze-up, the department would like to hear from farmers who can employ men for the winter months, or for a full year, including the coming winter.

Application forms may be obtained from any C.N.R. station agent, or from Dan. M. Johnson, Room 100, Union Depot, Winnipeg, or R. C. W. Lett, Corner 100th St. and Jasper Ave., Edmonton, Alta.

The farmers who can do so should apply for a man as the satisfactory placing of these farm workers will be an important factor in western development and settlement.

Efforts are being made in Prince Rupert to get at least 25 people to make the trip to Smithers next week, with a jaunt to Burns Lake and district over Saturday and Sunday, returning to Telkwa next day for the Barbecue.

The report of the Hon. William Sloan, minister of mines and commissioner of fisheries, shows that last year British Columbia again led all the Canadian provinces in the value of her fisheries products.

Prospects now are that the fall session of the legislature will open on Tuesday, October 27, and be of brief duration. There is little contentious legislation on the agenda and between six and seven weeks should be sufficient to dispose of all the business that will come up.

Meet to Discuss Tourist Business Saturday Night

On Saturday night, Aug. 23, there will be a general meeting of the citizens of the district in Assembly Hall at Hazelton for the purpose of discussing ways and means of co-operating with the Canadian National Railways in handling the rapidly increasing tourist traffic. The north is being recognized by the tourist and the present accommodation is not nearly sufficient to meet the demand. It is well known that this district offers more to the tourist than any other section of British Columbia. All that is lacking is accommodation. The tourist demands modern comforts and conveniences in the wilds and they are ready to pay for them.

The meeting Saturday night is to discuss the matter of providing accommodation, both for tourists who travel by train and those who come by auto. This is a big matter for this district and requires the best effort of every person in the district.

Dr. Wrinch, M.L.A., had a long conference with Sir Henry Thornton and other members of his executive officers and he will inform the local people what the railway people are prepared to do. A large attendance is requested.

Terrace

Rev. and Mrs. Marsh and Mrs. Greig, assisted by Miss Onalee Greig, gave the primary class of the Sunday school a half-holiday at Lakelse Lake on Friday. The wee tots greatly enjoyed the races and sports and a real picnic lunch. S. Kirkaldy very kindly furnished the means of transportation.

Mary and Margaret McCaffery, of Prince Rupert, are spending a holiday at Hill Farm.

James Legace, of Vancouver, was a recent visitor.

Mrs. Fred. H. Aiken was a visitor in Prince Rupert last week.

Mrs. Bunn, of Prince Rupert, was the guest of Mrs. Glass for a few days.

Went to Buy

Among Northern business men who attended the Buyers' Week gathering in connection with the Vancouver Exhibition were: A. A. Cannon, Hazelton; S. A. Eby, Mrs. Fotherby, Jas. Adams, Jas. Macdonald, Floyd Hatt (and family), Smithers; H. H. Phillips, A. McCrea, Telkwa; Ben. Agar, Morris Hatt (and family), L. H. Kennedy, W. C. Sparkes, Terrace.

Seeing Europe With the Editors

V. Hampton Court. A Flying Demonstration. A Notable Dinner

Stratford-on-Avon, July 28. Our sightseeing is over at last. Nearly all the Canadian Press party is rolling across the Atlantic in the C.P.R. steamer Montlaurier, which left Glasgow last Friday. However, the end of events is not yet, and some general impressions, of life and conditions here, have to be added.

Those who arranged our itinerary did not consider that we should like to go to church, for, as in the army, Sunday usually meant an augmented program.

Sunday, July 6, saw us boarding a launch at Richmond Bridge, whence we chuffed up the Thames through miles of beautiful lawns, riverside residences, and small pleasure craft of all kinds, to Hampton Court.

There we literally "did" the palace and gardens in less than an hour! One would like to linger and tell of the great vine, the marvellous clock, the fountains, the yew trees, but—here is the ubiquitous charabanc and we are late for luncheon in a huge marquee at the country house of Colonel Grant Morden, M.P., and his wife.

After the meal we listened to speeches in which Lord Birkenhead forecast that recent decisions concerning preferential treatment of Dominion produce should and would be changed; T. P. O'Connor broke a lance with him, and, among others, Sir Hamar Greenwood added to our information and pleasure. Very many distinguished men and women were at this function, including Mr. Godfrey Isaacs, who organized the Marconi wireless systems.

From this delightful spot we were transported for tea to Hall Barn, Beaconsfield, where a most homelike reception awaited us at the hands of Lord and Lady Burnham. Here is the oldest lawn in England amid grounds the delights of which would fill many columns. No servants "poured tea" or "cut the ices". Our distinguished hosts, their daughter, and other titled friends waited on the needs of their fellow newspaperfolk from overseas. Then we drove back to London.

The pace grew hotter next day, though the weatherman tried a few tears in the morning, which found us at Kenley Aerodrome. Here we witnessed a flying demonstration, by the Royal Air Force, specially arranged by the air ministry. After stunts of all sorts, one pilot demonstrated what not to do in flying. He skimmed roofs, "flat turned" without rudder or banking, and did other daredevil things. Then four machines went up and presently four of another type rose and attacked them. Next came bombing a dummy submarine, and finally most of our party, including nearly all the ladies, went aloft in all types of British fighters and the larger commercial machines.

Time pressed or more would have flown. We swept by charabanc down narrow lanes, gazed over a wide vista of Kent and stopped at Haver castle for lunch in another great marquee, and there spent the afternoon, the guests of Major the Hon. J. J. Astor, M.P., and Lady Violet Astor.

You will have gathered that we had by this time seen many wonderful sights and met many delightful people. We had passed from one entertainment to another, but here, at Haver, was certainly one of our most memorable experiences.

The castle is just the embodiment of all you have read or dreamed that a castle should be. It is not large. You come on it suddenly and rub your eyes to see if they can possibly be going wrong. Here is a square of tower and turret and great gate, surrounded by a real moat with drawbridge and portcullis intact.

Within are Holbeins and armor, tapestries and treasures of all

Sidelights on a Great Industry

Huge Revenue From Timber

RAW MATERIAL OF FOREST INDUSTRIES HEAVILY BURDENED WITH TAXATION

Comparison With Other Groups Shows Disproportionate Nature of Levies

REVENUE received directly from timber during the financial year ending March 31st, 1923, benefitted the British Columbia treasury to the extent of $3,247,000. That is to say, in one year the raw material of the forest industries alone contributed this enormous sum to the running expenses of the Province.

During the same period $2,526,000 income tax was paid by the citizens of British Columbia, of whom a considerable number are timberholders. It will be noticed that the income tax is only 77 per cent. of the timber levy.

The question arises, what did the timberholder get for the three and a quarter million he paid into the treasury?

The Department of Mines, according to the Government financial report for 1923, received $150,000 and paid out $235,000. The Department of Public Works received $111,000 and paid out $2,774,000; the Department of Railways received $52,000 and paid out $129,000; the Department of Agriculture received $31,000 and paid out $437,000. The Department of Lands received $4,000,000, of which $3,247,000 was revenue from timber. Of this great sum less than $700,000 was paid back in forest protection and the maintenance of the forestry office.

The case of the British Columbia timberholder constitutes a unique example of over-taxation. Two facts must be borne in mind. Timber is only harvested once in a lifetime, and that there is no surer way to kill a big competitive industry than to overburden its raw material with taxation.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

kinds, and mementoes of Henry VIII., who here wooed Anne Boleyn. Around stretch lawns and terraces and gardens, before whose beauty one stands tongue-tied. The pen may convey some hint of their entrancing loveliness, but who shall adequately describe the combined effect of this typically English home and the charming pair who layish upon it all that love and care that its first owners could possibly wish for it?

Major Astor is one of the most modest and delightful of men. He it was who bought The Times and, in effect, preserved it for the world it serves. Lady Violet, who treated us to a pleasing little reply on her initiation into the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association (in which she is to represent The Times Weekly Edition), is a daughter of the late Earl of Minto, one of our own Governors-General. Her mother's work in connection with hospitals and nursing in Canada will never be forgotten. She recalled with delight her stay at Rideau Hall.

I do not think that one of us wished to leave this fairy place, which is both palace and home, and those who live there, who are at once to be numbered among the greatest in England and among its simplest and kindest hearts.

But—the last car waits, and leaving Westerham, where Wolfe lies buried, to our right, we get back to town. A brief rest and another real newspaper welcome awaits us the same evening, again at the hands of Lord and Lady Burnham, but this time in the offices of The Daily Telegraph in Fleet Street. The business office had been transformed for the occasion, and from the music and delights to be found there one might sally into the works, where the great presses were turning out the provincial edition. And so, as the great diarist says, "home to bed."

Tuesday, July 8, was our last day in London. It was set apart for visiting the British Empire Exhibition. At 8 p.m. Lord Beaverbrook entertained our party at Queen's Hall, the floor of which had been specially relaid for dancing. This was the grand finale of big events in which we had been participators. I did not go, but from the menu card you may see our host, disguised as a cook, peering round a screen at a long row of diners, bewhiskered and otherwise. Upon each plate gyrates, in oratorical attitude, Mr. Lloyd George. The legend runs: "Overseas Editors Wondering Whether Their Digestions

Are Equal to Welsh Rarebit."

I gather that the former premier gave a wonderful exhibition of his genius for evading straight pronouncement, which was, perhaps, half-expected, concerning Imperial preference.

The table plan reveals names which are household words in British politics, journalism, and other spheres. Here are a few: Lord Ashfield, Wilfred Ashley, M.P., W. B. Ballantyne, Sir A. Shirley Benn, Lord and Lady Birkenhead, Sir A. Griffith Boscawen, Sir George McLaren Brown, Sir William Bull, Winston Churchill, H. Coleridge Taylor, Sir Martin Conway, Sir Joseph Cook, General Cuthbertson, Sir Dadiba Dalal, Sir Davison Dalziel, Lord and Lady Devonport, Lord Derby, Sir Robert Donald, Lady Donegal, Sir N. Grattan Doyle, Sir George and Lady Fenwick, Hon. Evelyn Fitzgerald, Baroness de Forest, Sir Hamar Greenwood, Lady Griffith Boscawen, Mrs. Hall Caine, Lady Headfort, Sir Samuel Hoare, Sir Robert Horne, General Garnet Hughes, Lady Hulton, Percy Hurd, the Governor-General of the Irish Free State, Col. S. B. Joel, Sir Roderick Jones, Sir W. and Lady Joynson-Hicks, Admiral Kingsmill, Sir Henry le Bas, Sir George Lewis, Col. Macdonnell, Ian McPherson, Lord Marshall, The Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, C. F. G. Masterman, C. A. McCurdy, Lord and Lady Minto, Col. and Mrs. Grant Morden, Gordon Selfridge, J. St. Loe Strachey, Lord Wargrave, the Duchess of Westminster, Lord and Lady Winterton, Major E. Wrench—and so it goes.

It was a brilliant and memorable gathering. If it did not make big political history, the stage at least was well set. Next day we started to tour England, Wales, and Scotland.

WEDDING BELLS

Mawhinney-Morton

To many in the North and to the people of Telkwa will come of interest the news of the marriage of Rev. W. C. Mawhinney, former and very popular Methodist minister at Telkwa, and Martha Pearson Morton. The ceremony took place on Thursday, August 7, at Nakusp, B.C., to which point the Rev. Mawhinney was transferred this year, following a highly-successful incumbency of two years in the Telkwa field. The best wishes of a host of friends are extended to him.

Mrs. Taylor and children, of Port Essington, were visitors in Terrace for a few days last week.

Mrs. Bleecker Honored

It was a merry party that gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Cole on Wednesday evening of last week in honor of Mrs. G. H. Bleecker, secretary-treasurer of the G. W. V. A. Auxiliary, who is leaving Terrace on September 1. Dancing formed the evening's entertainment, and the spirit was one of a real old-time dance. Several G. W. V. A. members attended and did their part in making every moment a lively one. Mr. McLaren furnished the music. The guests included Mesdames Amesbury, Attwood, Bishop, Bleecker, Braun, Burrison, Cole, Hipp, Kirkaldy, McLaren, Norrington, Powers, Sherwood, Turner and Wilson, and Miss Onalee Greig; Messrs. Cole, Ellwood, Kirkaldy, McLaren and Norrington. The president of the Auxiliary, Mrs. Amesbury, and the president of the G. W. V. A. branch, S. Kirkaldy, each extended a vote of thanks to Mrs. Bleecker for her efforts in their behalf. Dainty refreshments were served at midnight, when the party broke up after a most enjoyable evening.

Oil Shed Burned

Several hundred dollarsworth of material went up in smoke early on Monday morning, when the oil shed at the mill was burned to the ground. Fortunately for the safety of the mill itself, there was an absence of wind, and the ground was damp from the rain of the previous evening, otherwise a more serious blaze might have occurred.

Here and There

A remarkable report comes from Rockville, Ont. Harry Church, a farmer residing five miles north of that town, is the owner of a Holstein cow which has just given birth to three calves. All are alive and thriving.

On July 11, Her Majesty the Queen of Spain and her two daughters visited the Canadian Pacific Railway's pavilion at the British Empire Exhibition. Her Majesty evinced deep interest in all she saw and declared the exhibit to be "perfectly lovely."

Although the present season of ocean travel has reached the period usually associated with a falling off in the number of passengers, steamship companies report that little decrease is apparent this year and that the total volume of passenger traffic in 1924 will probably be the largest of any year since the war.

World production of silver for the first half of 1924 is 117,650,000 ounces, as against 118,250,000 ounces in the first six months of 1923. Canada accounted for a production of 10,800,000 ounces in 1924, as against 10,500,000 ounces in the first half of 1923, being the third producer after Mexico and the United States, both of which showed a decline.

Saskatchewan's output of creamery butter in June amounted to 1,787,056 pounds, as compared with 1,746,000 pounds in June, 1923, an increase of 41,056 pounds or 2.4 per cent. From January to June, 1924, the province has produced 5,109,090 pounds of butter, as against 4,423,016 pounds in the same period in 1923, an increase of 686,074 pounds or 15.5 per cent.

Among the tributes to the late Sir Edmund Osler, of the Canadian Pacific Railway's directorate, was one from C. R. Hosmer, for many years a fellow-director. It was addressed to Vice-President Grant Hall and read as follows: "He was the last living of the great men who organized our great railway."

The late Sir Edmund became a director of the Canadian Pacific Railway in 1885, the year of the completion of the transcontinental line.

A most interesting and attractive volume entitled "Here and There in Montreal" has just been published by the Musson Book Co. of Toronto. The book is well illustrated with maps and pictures in color and brings out many noteworthy facts, such as that the city's total population is 900,000, that two-thirds of this number are French-Canadians and that Montreal is the second port of importance in North America. The author is Charles W. Stokes, Asst. Gen. Publicity Agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The first annual Pow Wow of the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies, held at Yoho Camp, was a great success. Over 200 internationally known writers, artists, etc., rode in to gather round the sacred fire in the Sun Dance Lodge. Charles D. Walcott, secretary of the Smithsonian Institute of Washington, D.C., honorary president of the Trail Riders, addressed the gathering, a poem written specially for the occasion by Bliss Carman was read and Chiefs Walk-in-the-Road and Buffalo Child Long Lance performed an Indian dance.

W. Anderson was the scene of an enjoyable bridge party on Wednesday evening, in honor of

Miss Horbury and Mrs. Mathieson.

Miss McNight leaves on Saturday for her home after visiting Mrs. W. W. Anderson.

H. H. Little and family leave on Saturday for Prince Rupert, where they will make their future

Vancouver on Wednesday night after attending the wholesalers' gathering. He reports having had a delightful time.

from the canneries, and all have had a successful season.
